

Debater

You are continuously striving to find better ways of doing things.

You enjoy a challenge and are not afraid to go against the grain. You think beyond and consider other points of views. You can break down preconceived notions and bring better and more innovative ideas to the table.

Finding and developing improvements comes naturally to you. You may have a well-developed entrepreneurial spirit.

You have your own way of doing things, are highly curious, clever, verbally outspoken, and have lively and complex relationships with others. Some see you as the devil's advocate. You are a loyal partner and friend while being enthusiastic and outgoing.

